MAUDSLEY Long Gallery

A Maudsley Charity grant enabled the transformation of a former disused hospital corridor into a public art space, the Maudsley Long Gallery, opening the hospital space to the community and helping to break down stigma.

PROGRAMME

3 DEC - 25 JAN: Founders Awards
Every year the Bethlem Gallery runs an art fair for artists connected to SLaM services. Each year we invite a special guest to select 3 award winners who have recently joined the gallery in the last year. Each artist receives £100 Founders Award prize, and this year we have introduced an opportunity for the artists to show more of their work in the Maudsley Long Gallery. Alexandra Leigh, Fatma Durmush and Lloyd who are the artists exhibiting in this showcase were selected by artist Mark Titchener in 2017.

ADAMSON COLLECTION TRUST

The Adamson Collection is one of the major international collections of art objects made by people who lived in European mental asylums. It holds about 5,500 objects (paintings, drawings, ceramics, sculptures, and works on stone, flint and bone) created between 1946 and 1981, by people at the British long-stay mental hospital, Netherne.

The Collection has been recognised as one of international importance. The Maudsley Charity supported the Adamson Collection Trust to enable a permanent collection of work to be displayed at Oak House, Lambeth Hospital.

PERMANENT EXHIBITION

The unique display contains over 200 objects previously inaccessible to the public.
